Summary

"I am a Junior Java Developer with a robust understanding of Java fundamentals, including object-oriented programming, data structures, and algorithms. With practical experience in Java frameworks such as Spring Boot and tools like Git, I bring a strong foundation in software development.

Currently, I am contributing to Myanmar Information Technology Pte Ltd's Banking department, leveraging frameworks like Spring and Angular to deliver efficient solutions. I am passionate about software development and developing with the microservices of Spring.

As a team player, I am confident in my ability to contribute effectively to your team's objectives. I am eager to bring my skills and enthusiasm to your company and discuss how they align with your goals.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my experience and passion for software development can benefit your team."
